Text 1

Phi Ta Khon Festival

In this three-day festival, townspeople dress up in ghost masks - which is also the actual translation of the festival name - and make merry by participating in parties and parades in the Dan Sai district in Loei province. It is situated in northeastern Thailand. This tradition is unique to Dan Sai in Thailand but includes elements from other festivals, such as, the 'Rocket Festival' from Isan. This is also a time when people's creativity comes into play. The colorful and vibrant masks are a sight for sore eyes, and can even get pretty scary at times. Skillfully handcrafted from dried sticky husks, these masks are generally white and have long noses.

Adapted from <https://www.holidify.com/pages/phi-ta-khon-1215.html>

77. According to the passage, what is another name of Phi Ta Khon Festival?

- |                               |                          |

|-----------------|--------------|
| 1. only one day | 2. two days  |
| 3. three days   | 4. four days |

79. In which part of Thailand do people celebrate this festival?

- |             |                 |
|-------------|-----------------|
| 1. Northern | 2. Northeastern |
| 3. Central  | 4. Southern     |

80. Which of the following words can replace the word “vibrant” in line 6?

- |           |          |
|-----------|----------|
| 1. lively | 2. sadly |
| 3. pale   | 4. dull  |

81. According to this festival, what can be a sight for sore eyes and scary at the same time?
- |                |                |
|----------------|----------------|
| 1. townspeople | 2. ghost dress |
| 3. tourists    | 4. ghost masks |
82. Which of the following choices has the same meaning as “handcrafted” in line 7?

The Ancient City!

Here at The Ancient City, we aim to realize the sustainable tourism ideology. Through a carefully designed development plan and resource allocation, we hope to become the best attraction for people of all nations and age groups for generations to come. The Ancient City is open daily from 9.00 a.m. – 6.00 p.m.

The Ancient City at Samut Prakan allows you learn through traveling. Here we also have a strong sense of social responsibility; we try our best to incorporate the local community into our works. Inside the Ancient City itself, we have created a natural scenic oasis in the middle of a heavily industrialized area. The best representation of how Thai people once lived is preserved in the park environment and its architectures.

Our doors open on the heritage of Thai wisdom. With a wide range of architectural symbols combined with fine arts and craftsmanship, a structural layout and natural environment that integrate harmoniously, The Ancient City creates kind of atmosphere that induces visitors to perceive and appreciate the continuity of history, cultures, religions, arts and customs of Thai people.

Text 3

THAI PAPAYA SALAD

Instructions

1. Drain the soaked papaya well and place in a bowl lined with two layers of paper towel to absorb excess water. You want to have as little water on the papaya as possible so as to not dilute the dressing.
2. In a large mortar and pestle, pound garlic and chilies until there are no more big chunks (pieces of chili skin are fine).
3. Add palm sugar and mash with the pestle until it turns into a wet paste and all the chunks are dissolved.
4. Add long beans and pound just until they're broken.
5. Add dried shrimp and peanuts and pound to break the peanuts up slightly.
6. Add fish sauce, tamarind juice, and lime juice, adding the squeezed lime skin into the mortar as well for extra lime fragrance. Stir with a large spoon to mix and dissolve the sugar.
7. Add shredded papaya and tomatoes, and mix using the pound-and-flip method. Once everything looks well mixed and the tomatoes are just slightly crushed, it's done!
8. Plate and sprinkle with the remaining peanuts.
9. For a truly classic Northeastern Thai meal, serve with sticky rice and the ultimate BBQ chicken.
